LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
THURSDAY NIGHT.

We have heard much about the fascination shown to Queen Victoria's daughters during the time the Prince Consort was in command at Aldershot. Abbey this morning made me look back with envy to the days when the Royal Family lived in the midst of the people. The Sovereign was then a real personality. The King, with the Queen and Alexandra, was constantly appearing at Court functions, which represented the whole of Society. Ascot was a Royal meeting, and Cowes Week was the time before the Season when the Queen and Royal Family were to be seen at their best. Now the Royal Family is represented, for the most part, by deputy. The Sovereign, who is the only man who has been or is deemed to be indispensable, is the one who is never seen. Even the Queen has been enlisted and transferred to the Army Reserve, either under Royal Warrant, dated October 29th, 1915, or under the provisions of the Military Service Acts, 1916 and 1917, and is in Ireland, is hereby required to report himself to the Police Officer in charge of the police station nearest to his residence in Ireland, on or before 12th August, 1918, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon, and there await further orders to be given to him by the military authorities. Failure to comply with this direction, without reasonable cause or excuse, the details of which will be required and dealt with by a court-martial, is declared an offence and made liable to the same penalties as desertion or absentee without leave from the Military service.

Simultaneously with this Proclamation there are "Explanatory Notes" stating that the Direction contained in it do not apply to any man who has been specially exempted by the Government's new measures, but there are still too many signs of the old belief in secrecy, especially in the case of those "categorical reasons" which may be held to justify the continued employment of persons of enemy birth in the Government service. Why not have the whole thing out in public and above board? What conceivable reason can there be for making a mystery of the truth in those rare cases whose exceptions are held to be indispensable? We can see every possible reason against it, and we are bound to say that we think the Government would have been wiser to base their whole scheme from the outset on the fullest possible measure of publicity. The decision about the German Banks, on the other hand, meets the popular demand pro tanto, while the prosecution against the reopening of their branches will remove the last suspicion (justified by many Parliamentary answers) that they were somehow to be kept alive with this very object. If the thing is possible now, why not long ago?

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FOCH.

The German Press, says The Times, opened last week a regular campaign against General Foch, apparently for the purpose of sounding the public during the period of nervous waiting for fresh activity by Hindenburg and Ludendorff. It is obvious that all the articles proceed from German General Staff. General von Gleich, who published three columns in the Berliner Tageblatt under the heading "General Foch in the Judgment of a Countryman and Contemporaries. The Berlin Lokalanzeiger called its article "More Bloodletting." General von Ardenne begins by denying that General Foch is not one of the "industrial giants" of military history, but even of the dominating characters. He inserts assertion that "English critics" have lately set Foch "on the Commander without initiative." The Lokalanzeiger article represents General Foch temporarily in Ireland. "A proclamation, signed by Sir Auckland Geddes, was posted yesterday morning in public places in Dublin stating that every man who has been or is deemed to have been enlisted and transferred to the Army Reserve, either under Royal Warrant, dated October 29th, 1915, or under the provisions of the Military Service Acts, 1916 and 1917, and is in Ireland, is hereby required to report himself to the Police Officer in charge of the police station nearest to his residence in Ireland, on or before 12th August, 1918, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon, and there await further orders to be given to him by the military authorities. THE DEAD MEAT TRADE.

At the weekly meeting of the Port and Docks Board yesterday, Alderman Moran presided.

Dr. Sherlock said he wished to raise a question intimately associated with the finance of the port, and one fitting calculated to take away trade from the city meant a serious loss. He had reason to believe that in Drogheda a very large interest had been floated by a big financial magnate for the purpose of developing a dead meat trade on the cold storage there. He also had reason to believe that a similar undertaking on a colossal scale was about to be started in Belfast. In his judgment the time had come for both shipping companies and the cattle traders, as well as the general body of citizens, to secure that if the live stock trade was going to be converted into a dead meat trade and cold storage, that Dublin would at least have a fair proportion of it. He would suggest for the purpose of initiating a full inquiry that the Lord Mayor should exercise his responsibility, and see that the interests of Dublin were not damaged. He had reason to believe that the Department of Agriculture was not unfriendly, and that the Government was desirous of establishing this class of trade, and that if Dublin would exercise its responsibility, that Dublin would get a fair proportion of it. He would suggest for the purpose of initiating a full inquiry that the Lord Mayor should exercise its responsibility, and see that the interests of Dublin were not damaged. He had reason to believe that the Department of Agriculture was not unfriendly, and that the Government was desirous of establishing this class of trade, and that if Dublin would exercise its responsibility, that Dublin would get a fair proportion of it.

That the Chairman be directed to invite representatives of the Corporation, Chamber of Commerce, Trades Council, Chamber of Commerce, Dublin Industrial Development Association, Irish Cattle Traders' and Stock Breeders' Association, the Department of Agriculture, and the Dublin Shipping companies to confer with the Board.

Mr. Wilson said that the matter was a very important one, and one which required careful consideration. He would suggest that the proposal be referred to the Finance Committee.

The Chairman said he could not agree to the proposal. The Board had a duty to perform, and it should not shirk it.

Mr. Wilson said that the matter involved the expenditure of £20,000 for the Pigeon House, and he thought that should be considered by the public.

The Chairman said he could not agree to the proposal. The Board had a duty to perform, and it should not shirk it.

CONSERVATION OF COAL SUPPLIES.

Dr. Sherlock said he wished to bring forward a matter of immediate importance. It was a statement on which Mr. Bonham-Carter had made a speech in the House of Commons. He noted that the Lord Mayor had convened a meeting of representatives of public bodies to consider the question of the conservation of coal supplies. He noted that the Lord Mayor had received a telegram from Mr. Bonham-Carter, President of the Board of Trade, stating that the Government would be prepared to apply to the Coal Controller for supplies of coal for the Dublin Gas Company, and the Electric Supply Company, provided that they undertook to supply in this country not to supply in this country not to supply in this country not

A quick dry Shampoo

However clean and nice your hair is immediately after washing, there is so much dust and dirt about that it gets dirty again long before it needs another wash. That is where the Icilma Dry Shampoo is so useful. You can use it any time when your hair seems rather dusty or greasy. Icilma Dry Shampoo only takes a few minutes, and you can do your hair up immediately after using it. Just sprinkle the powder evenly over your hair and after a few moments brush it out. All the dust and grease come away with the shampoo powder and your hair is left clean and fluffy and ever so easy to dress.

The Corsets of Distinction.

Advanced Prices

For the past 50 years women of discrimination have relied on the J.B. Corset to enhance the distinctive individuality of their dress.

This popularity is the outcome of the principle of allowing nothing inferior in material or workmanship to have part in the making of a single J.B. Corset. In these days of trade difficulties adherence to this principle has compelled the manufacturers to increase the prices of the J.B. Models.

Some of the prices in the J.B. Catalogues are therefore reluctantly cancelled.

Portrait of Mr. WILLIAM HARBORNE, of 9 Railway Road, Perry Barr, Birmingham, who writes:—

About two years ago I went with rather a bad accident. I was a conductor on the City Tramways and whilst getting in my fares one day the car ran on suddenly, throwing me with great violence on the floor. My arm was cut severely, and I had to have it stitched at the Hospital. I was off work for some time, and even when I began work and after resuming my duties for one week I began to feel very ill. My body broke Boils. Again I went to the hospital, and was treated for Blood Poisoning. This happened on three successive occasions, until I began to think I should never be cured. Then a friend of Clarke's Blood Mixture a trial, and the first bottle or two seemed to be stirring out the poison, so I persevered, and after taking two bottles I was cured. It is now over twelve months since I left off taking your Clarke's Blood Mixture and I have seen no signs of any further blood disorder.

Clarke's Blood Mixture, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in all cases of Eczema, Scrofula, Sores, and Legs Abscesses, Boils, Pimples, Sores and Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Gout. Pleasant to take, and free from anything injurious. Ask for it to-day.

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

Quiet, but interesting, markets were current on Change yesterday, with further well-sustained support about in more directions than one. Great Northern Railway Stock was scarce. Good buying took place in Guinness Ord. at improving prices. The support for Marconi issues was again well sustained, with special strength still obtaining for American and Canadian Shares. United Steel Shares and Debs. were also in continued request. Dunlops were quiet, with Dunlop Rubber Ord. on offer about 30s. Textiles were easy, but Calicos were harder. The Cotton dividend statement is expected immediately, and should be favourable.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Bank Rate (changed April 5th, 1917)..... 5 p.c.

There was no alteration in the Bank rate, but conditions in the Money markets were about the same. The increased usability of money during the last few days is accounted for by the reduction of 12 millions in market balances shown by the Bank return, and by the steady flow of gold to Ireland, but the supply of paper was light. Short-dated Treasury bills were about the same, bills changed hands at 3¼ p.c. August at 7/ to 3¼ p.c., and September at 3¼ to 3⅜ p.c.

LONDON STOCKS EASIER.

There was not a great deal of activity on the Stock Exchange, though provincial orders rose in sympathy to a satisfactory extent. The War Loan had little direct influence, and the Bank, recognising the steadiness in Government securities, came to the sharp reduction in Market rewritten indicated. The 5% per cent. War Loan conversion issues were again well sustained, with the 1929-47 slightly firmer on the day. Home Rails were quiet and closely held their ground. Among Miscellaneous Stocks Imperial issues were rather in demand, and showed considerably irregularity. The Tax Compounded Loan was hardly so good at the close, but the essential issues were on the firm side, especially New South Wales descriptions, on the report that the Australian Government issues and Local Loans Stock were cheerful, the latter being up to 85.

FOREIGN BONDS STEADY.—The Foreign Market exercised a quiet account, but, despite the narrowness of dealings, general conditions kept steady. French Fives showed back to 77¼, and there was further decline to the Rio exchange to a quotation of 122½d, adversely affected the subjection of Brazilian Loans.

RAILS LESS ACTIVE.—The Home Railway department did little more than mark time during the afternoon session. One or two of the Hivarios were put forward slightly during the day, but on the whole, in the absence of sustained support, they mostly settled back again to over-night prices. The South Western group was quietly cheerful.

Grand Trunk Stocks marked 4 Canadian Pacific did not vary. Mexican Rails were rather limp. There were several gains of 1 to 2 among Argentine Rails despite the opposition to weak indications of current net results, which are now out. Deferred were 5 better, and Westerns were specially firm.

Changes—Brazil Ord. Trunk, ¼ to 17¼; do. 3rd Pref., ¼ to 23¼; Antofagasta Ferid. Ord., 1 to 103; Buenos Ayres Great Southern, ½ to 93½; Buenos Ayres Western, ½ to 59½; Central Argentine, 1 to 99½; Falls-Metropolitan, 1 to 87½; North Eastern Preferred, ½ to 91½; Dover Pref., ½ to 11; Grand Trunk Guar., ¼ to 53¼; Mexican Rail Ord., ½ to 12½.

INDUSTRIALS SUPPORTED.—In the Miscellaneous and Industrial market business was on a small scale, but prices were generally well supported, and many quotations established further net gains to a fair extent. In the Marconi group the Canadian Shares and Stocks, Wireless Guar. and Hardened, showed renewed strength in the Land group, closing 1 up at 7½. There were one or two fine weight gains of 1 among South American Trackings, but they were mostly confined to the Argentine Land Stocks, which were in demand. Imperial Continental Gas were also active around 91. Iron and Steel Shares were moved in small changes of ½ to ¾ on the whole, Consolidated Among Categories and Supply Shares Australia was good around 58, on reports of an increased offer from Lipton's. The latter shares did not vary. Meat Shares were supported.

Changes—Rose, Marconi Canada, 6d. to 11s.; do. Spanish, 6d. to 49; Cattle and Harvey, 6d. to 50; Lyons, 6d. to 149; Fraser and Chalmers, 5d. to 27; Ota Steel, 2/6 to 172/6; and Of Dec., 2/6 to 350; Hudson's Bay, 1/- to 71; Mexican Light and Power Bonds, 1 to 49; Falls-Ammunition, 1 to 87; Agent Land, 1 to 71; Mexican Harvell's Stores, ½ to 52; National Provisions, 6d. to 56/6; Woodin's, 6d. to 59/6; Mexican Tram Bonds, ½ to 44½.

MINING MARKET QUIET.—The Mining market had another quiet season, and the tone was hardening. Kaffirs were spotty. Diamonds held firm under most of the Boers and Rhodesians were slow. Platos again advanced, though base metal issues as a whole were quiet. Investors kept fair.

RUBBER MARKET BRITTER.—The price of rubber is unchanged at 4/4d per lb. Business is Anglo-Malay are also better at 12/12. Batu Caves have changed hands up to £13, and Bukit Rajah up to 7/4. Johore Rubber Lands are practically unchanged upon the report (final dividend 5, making 10 pc. for the year) at 27/- c.d. Pelepah Valley were taken at 3/4½. There have been transactions in South Perak between 28/9 and 30/4½, while Sungei Buaya have been taken at 48/9, and are still wanted at this price. Sialang have been in good demand all the week, and their price has improved to 63/9. In the Borneo division, Kimanis have eased off a little to 19/-, upon the announcement that no dividend will be distributed (the earnings are 12 pc.). Sapong came to business this afternoon at 26/5.

OIL SHARES FIRM.—Among Oil Shares firmness continued, Burmahs being a specially strong feature. Gypsy B. were better. Venezuelans closed cheerfully at 44/3.

Changes.—Anglo-Egypt. B., 45/41-6d.; Burmah, 6¼-⅜; Kern River, 12/-11d.; Lobitos, 43/6-19/-; Mexican Eagle, 63/1-4-3d.; do. Pref., 64/14-3d.; Rum. Consol., 9/3-4d.; Shell, 144/3-9d.; Trinidad, 10/9-4d.; Ural Caspian, 17/9-9d.
